New horse, new car meet same sad end

WAKEFIELD, England, Oct. 8—A Private Detective William Cooke cruised gently along at the wheel of his car. Suddenly a horse fell through the roof.

The new, $2,200 car was reduced to junk. The horse was killed. Cooke climbed out with nothing worse than a bruised arm.

The horse had leaped over a six-foot fence separating its paddock from the road. Its owner, 18-year-old Susan Dixon, bought him only 24 hours before the incident Sunday.

"I hadn't even thought of a name for him," Miss Dixon sobbed. "He was beautiful. I spent all my savings on him. I'm heartbroken."

An empty box of fireworks was found in the paddock. Miss Dixon said the horse must have been scared and broken its tether.

BIRD FEEDERS

Outdoors areas are being designed very attractively these days. And bird feeders and shelters are one of the added features. Not only do they add beauty, but they also provide endless hours of entertainment for children and older people. A feeder placed so that it can be seen from a window can be a special point of interest. The shape and size of the feeder will depend on its location. Feeders placed close to the house must be small. Those placed at a distance of 50 feet or more from the house could be made much larger. The larger the feeding area, the greater number of birds you can expect. But remember one or two large feeding areas are usually more attractive than a lot of small ones.

NEW HEARTS FOR OLD!

Already, it is now possible for synthetic replacement parts to be installed in a failing heart. In the not too distant future you will be able to replace your heart with a new one.

Meanwhile, there are many new and effective drugs among our prescription medicines to give help to any overtaxed hearts.

meet Tempest '63...today!

how's this for exploding the myth that cars have to be expensive to look it! Tempest '63

Maybe you can tell the difference between Pontiac's Tempest (especially that Le Mans) and the high-priced jobs. Besides having a 4 that acts like a V-8, Tempest sports a new 260-hp V-8 that acts like nothing you ever got your hands on before. And besides its beautiful balance, Tempest has Wide-Track this year. And self-adjusting brakes and a tachometer and fetching style and all kinds of niceties that'll make your Tempest smoother and tougher. About all it doesn't have is a big fat price tag. Vive la difference! Pontiac Tempest

THROUGH THE KEYHOLE

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

NEITHER SNOW NOR SLEET shall stop the mailman on his appointed rounds and these past few weeks we have looked forward to his visits as the letters coming to us bear such interesting postmarks.

This week a bit of old England was wafted into our house with a most interesting letter from Celia (English). She writes of her life with the British and states that they have seen very few Americans in their months abroad but that one English with the Embassy in London and both little boys are becoming little gentlemen in a private British school.

How refreshing it was to know that Celia and her family are really benefitting from this opportunity to live in a foreign land. She made it all sound so intriguing that we caught whiffs of Oliver Twist and the wind sweeping across the moors "la Jane Eyre." Can't you imagine the thrill two All-American boys get when they watch the British changing of the Guard?

A second letter that arrived was from Marianne English who writes of her life in Pittsburgh where Paul is Battery Commander of one of the Missile Sites fringing that city.

We had enjoyed a cup of coffee with Marianne this summer when she and her family were here on leave. We admired her little blonde daughter who is a chatter, but didn't have the chance to see her two boys.

In her nice, new letter, Marianne informed us that she is having a small nursery group in her home this year and really enjoying herself, that city life affords them the opportunity to see wonderful plays and concerts; and that all are finding the snow wonderful. We think Marianne is one of those marvelous people who find joy in life, such people are wonderful to know and should be cherished.

We are looking forward to other letters from our readers and hope they will count this column as our letter to them, as that is its main purpose.

AS I WRITE this, that wonderful, brave man is hurrying through the atmosphere and in contemplation and comparison, our actions seem rather insignificant. However as he sailed over Elba, we sent our prayers up to him and to his waiting wife, who had the courage to send him off with a smile, while I am sure, her heart crumbled at the edge.

Theory of life over universe is questioned

PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 8—A biologist working on an experiment to detect life on Mars questions the theory that life may exist throughout the universe.

Dr. Norman H. Horowitz of the California Institute of Technology, working on a National Aeronautics and Space Administration project, said Sunday that many may believe there is life on millions of planets.

"This is an exciting and ethically pleasing idea," he said. "But it seems more reasonable that the origin of life was a highly improbable event. I believe a realistic assessment of the problem would show that the spontaneous generation of a self-replicating (self-producing) molecule, such as we suppose the first living thing to have been, is exceedingly improbable in a random universe."

OUR FIRST P.T.A. meeting was a momentous occasion as we had been rather curious as we had been rather curious about that organization and felt gratified when "our" room won the attendance prize.

The crowd was quite large and as always, we were guilty of "people watching." Saw several of our former pupils, Coach Roland Powell and also Shirley Ballard, whose little blonde daughter struggled to keep her eyes open. Seems strange to realize that Shirley's little boy is older than our child.

Thought president Charles Kennett did a nice job of presiding and it was nice to have refreshments after the meeting. Thought it was wonderful of Mrs. John Garrett to attend.

Enjoyed chatting with Marlene Willis who told us she is enjoying her new home, which formerly belonged to Mrs. Pearl Brock, and which we have always admired. It was nice to know that she is continuing her art work, having done oil portraits of both her children.

THE OTHER TEAM, as Auburn is referred to by the hosts of our household, played a nice game of ball last week to the gratification of several local couples who attended.

Jane and Russell Cash made a nice trip seeing both sets of parents and the ballgame, too. The little boys visited Jane's people. Mr. and Mrs. Darby Sims in Bessemer, and after the game festivities were over, all the family stopped by Lawley to chat with Russell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Cash.

Jane and Russell meet friends for this game each year and look forward to the weekend.

Kate and Boyd Murphree and daughter Susan Davis were there and Susan says many of her husband's friends from Scotsboro, visited the game.

We stopped coffee with Bonnie Clay on that morning and she told us Jim was attending the game as Tennessee is his Alma Mater. On that same weekend, Doris and Ben Brock and Gwyn and Robert Marsh traveled to New Orleans for the game there.

Mrs. John Brock of New Brockton, came over to stay with the grandchildren and everyone concerned enjoyed the weekend. Wonder if "Mama" Brock made Nancy and Bonny any tea cakes?

She does make such delicious cookies.

STOPPED BY to see Mrs. C. O. Miller last Saturday

Mrs. Jeanne Bozeman was a gracious hostess on Tuesday evening of last week to the newly organized WMU Circle of the Westside Baptist Church.

Mrs. Opal Crook called the meeting to order and called on Mrs. Agnes Wilson for the minutes and reports. The program was given under the direction of Mrs. Adell Tucker. Mrs. Evelyn Dupree talked on "A Look at Communism."

Mrs. Henrietta Grimes spoke on "A Look at our social order." "A Look at the world" was given by Mrs. Gloria Burdick and Opal Crook spoke on "The Mission Task." The program was closed by Mrs. Jeanne Bozeman with a summation and "A Look At Ourselves."

The circle members enjoyed a delicious plate of cake and coffee served by the hostess.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

I'M SERIOUS!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest force for good in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	25	26-32
Monday	John	1	1-13
Tuesday	John	2	1-11
Wednesday	John	3	1-14
Thursday	John	4	1-26
Friday	John	5	1-14
Saturday	John	6	1-15

Maybe you like smiling babies? Sorry to disappoint you, but I've got a lot on my mind.

There's something wrong in America... and I'm the chap who's getting hurt!

Our Constitution says that no one can be denied the right to worship God. I'm an American! According to the Constitution I have the right to learn about God, to hear the Bible Stories, to be taught the Christian Way of Life.

But here's the hitch. While the Government can't deny me the right to attend Church School and Church—MY PARENTS CAN. They can rob me of my most sacred right just by neglecting my spiritual needs.

Did you know that about half the children in America are growing up without religious training? And yet there's a church in every village!

Yes, I'm serious! Instead of talking about juvenile delinquency, we ought to do something about it. We ought to crowd our churches with children—and parents! And we ought to start Sunday!

Do Electric Co-ops help keep electric costs down?

Y's. With 85 per cent of all our power business in the hands of great utilities, Rural Electric is the most effective "counterforce" to the evils of public utility monopoly.

The healthy competition of Rural Electric helps break the grip of monopoly by introducing effective competition. This keeps electric costs down.

VIEWS... OF THE NEWS...

WILL THIS EXPERIMENT FAIL, TOO?

An experiment in being made in a number of cities, South as well as North, in employing Negro policemen in predominantly Negro sections. It has been thought that Negroes would probably take greater pride in law observance if they were given Negro jobs.

But the experiment frequently runs into trouble and it may be found after further trial that white officers are more respected than colored officers.

If colored people would respect officers of their own race it would be nothing but appropriate to employ Negro police in Negro sections. And it would give Negroes jobs that otherwise they could not get.

Recently a Negro community in St. Louis, Mo., erupted into bitter violence and bloodshed when a white officer refused to accept a carousal driving warrant from a Negro officer and the police shot and killed the officer.

The Negro officer turned in his resignation while the mobsters gathered near the police station shouting, "We want Mason!"

The home of the chief of police was set afire twice, and two shotgun blasts were fired through the front window of the police station. A rash of fires were set within an hour, and one wing of a school was destroyed by fire which put a thousand children out of school.

All of this violence followed one Negro youth's refusal to accept a warrant from a Negro policeman in a minor affair. Then to see mobs formed and go on a rampage of shooting and burning in such a matter is certainly not a good sign.

Little Bobby and Big Brother can see as far as Mississippi, but they can't see things like this no matter where they happen.

Iron nerves cracked near wedding day

STAMFORD, England. The iron nerve of Harold Bromley, recently when piloting an H-bomb plane, cracked at the approach of his wedding day.

After mulling off two wedding invitations, he dashed to the post office and tried to stop them. Then he cancelled the reception and put the wedding cake up for sale.

The 36-year-old flight lieutenant in the Royal Air Force was brought down by Sarah Foulitt, prospective mother-in-law. His marriage to Betty Foulitt, 27, went ahead as planned last Saturday.

The above letter was from an old-time friend we have known for forty years.

The following letter is from one we do not know. But he seems to like our line and I like to have it dragged on. So here goes:

"Dear Sir: Just a few lines to let you know I really enjoy Views of the News in the Florida News. I lived in Florida 14 years. Moved away in 1950. But we still enjoy the paper, especially your column. Wish it could be printed in every newspaper in the United States. A reader."

Don't know how many readers of my column dislike it. Usually we hear more from those who dislike what we do. But so far it's the other way. Many have told us in person and not one yet has threatened to paste my ears back. So I guess you will hear some from me along just about every week. Especially about a few things I don't like.

I suppose anyone likes a little commendation along the way. I know I do. Too much of it may do more harm than good. But I really think a little of it does no harm. To his best. Too much of it would make a fool of most of us. Too much of it would make a fool of most of us. Too much of it would make a fool of most of us.

It was a close race at first, but a half block the men pulled away and Duval quit.

"I guess it's just as well I didn't catch them," Duval told police. "Probably couldn't hold 'em. After all, I'm 90."

One of the most stubborn divisions of the ancient world was that between Jew and Gentile. This was made plain in the Temple by inscriptions on the middle wall of partition, which separated the inner from the outer court.

One inscription read: "No man of another race is to proceed within the partition and enclosing wall about the sanctuary, and anyone arrested there will have himself to blame for the penalty of death which will be imposed as a consequence."

The middle wall disappeared in the rubble when Titus destroyed the Temple in A.D. 70. But before that the division for which it stood was being broken down by the Christian church, where they were married.

OUR SOUTHERN STATES 100 YEARS AGO

BATTLE OVER WATER

On August 28, 1862, Braxton Bragg began a northward march from Chattanooga which developed into an ambitious invasion of Kentucky. He hoped to swing Kentucky into the Confederate orbit, or at least to get men and supplies for his army. The Union army under Don Carlos Buell failed to anticipate Bragg's move, but after it became apparent, occupied Louisville, Kentucky.

On October 8, 1862, the two armies fought an indecisive battle at Perryville, which was commemorated on that day one hundred years later.

On the move in the drouth straits, Bragg came face to face with a lack of water for his army and in his thirst he came upon an equal-thirsty enemy. Before dawn on October 8, skirmish over rights took place at Doe's Creek near Perryville, which developed into a major battle during the day. Neither side was able to throw all of its man power into the struggle, but the North won the water rights and Bragg's army began its retreat into Tennessee.

Eight Alabama regiments and five batteries participated in the battle of Perryville or Chapin Hills. The Third Alabama Infantry sustained very heavy losses. According to Bragg, it entered the conflict 500 strong and came out with 88 rank and file. Eleven other Alabama regiments in the area of battle were never thrown into the struggle. Notable Alabama regiments in the battle were Colonel John Herbert Kelley, Brigadier General S.A.M. Wood and Colonel W.V. Allen, the latter of Montgomery.

Bragg had accomplished one objective only in the nature of large quantities of supplies. According to a Richmond newspaper, "The wagon train of supplies brought out of Kentucky by Kirby Smith was 40 miles long."

The battle marked the end of Confederate attempts to invade Kentucky. But it also brought a reorganization of the Union army in the West. Bell, who neglected to pursue Bragg near Perryville was removed and William S. Rosecrans placed in charge of the Union army.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED... CHURCH THROUGH THE SAVING LOVE OF CHRIST

Our world still knows many divisions, some of them bitter. But Christ is not divided. We cannot remove the walls of partition separating us from the fellow and menacing our peace. But Christ can. He is our peace. The nearer we draw to Him, the nearer we are to one another. As we love all men with love like His, divisions are overcome.

PRAYER Save us this day, O Lord, from those things that separate us from Thee and so from one another. Baptize us with the Holy Spirit that we may be Thy disciples indeed. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY Christ loves all men. So may you and I. John B. Dawson (New Zealand)

OUR SOUTHERN STATES 100 YEARS AGO

BATTLE OVER WATER

On August 28, 1862, Braxton Bragg began a northward march from Chattanooga which developed into an ambitious invasion of Kentucky. He hoped to swing Kentucky into the Confederate orbit, or at least to get men and supplies for his army. The Union army under Don Carlos Buell failed to anticipate Bragg's move, but after it became apparent, occupied Louisville, Kentucky.

On October 8, 1862, the two armies fought an indecisive battle at Perryville, which was commemorated on that day one hundred years later.

On the move in the drouth straits, Bragg came face to face with a lack of water for his army and in his thirst he came upon an equal-thirsty enemy. Before dawn on October 8, skirmish over rights took place at Doe's Creek near Perryville, which developed into a major battle during the day. Neither side was able to throw all of its man power into the struggle, but the North won the water rights and Bragg's army began its retreat into Tennessee.
